

LIW | Leadership, not just leaders

Sam Macqueen
Associate Consultant
sam.macqueen@liw3.com

Sam is an executive coach and facilitator with a focus on high performance, teams and well-being. He utilises evidence-based approaches to shape effective bespoke interventions and support his clients to reach their desired outcomes in all facets of their life. A key component of this is the holistic and systemic overlays he applies to his processes.

His extensive corporate experience spanning 25 years including senior management and leadership roles means he is well equipped to offer a broad range of organisational solutions including strategy consulting, group coaching, workforce transformation and culture change programs.

Sam's specific capability and understanding of the financial services domain afford him some unique and valuable perspectives in this space. His first hand experience in volatile and high performance environments helps drive his effectiveness in these areas.

Mini Bio

- Background in financial markets/services
- Extensive senior management and leadership experience
- Post grad coaching psychology qualification
- Focus on executive coaching and facilitation

Qualifications

- Masters of Coaching Psychology – Sydney University (2018)
- Bachelor of Applied Finance – Macquarie University (2001)
- Meditation Facilitator – Nature Care College (2005)
- Genos Emotional Intelligence Accreditation
- AQR Mental Toughness Accreditation