

LIW | Leadership, not just leaders

Suzanne Quentin
Managing Consultant
suzanne.quentin@liw3.com

Suzanne has worked in corporate learning and development for more than 20 years, helping Fortune 1000 companies achieve competitive advantage by focusing on the human side of business.

Her expertise focuses in the areas of leadership development, change management, team effectiveness, executive presence and presentation skills, and career development. She is a seasoned program manager, instructional designer, facilitator, and executive coach and has launched dozens of successful employee and leader development programs at clients such as Lockheed Martin, Royal Dutch-Shell, Bechtel Engineering, McKesson, Genentech, Hewlett-Packard, Cisco Systems, and Salesforce.

Based in the US, Suzanne has trained extensively throughout India, China, Southeast Asia, South America and Europe. She is equally skilled at facilitating in-person programs as well as via virtual/online mediums.

Prior to joining LIW, Suzanne was owner and principal of Sky Consulting, a boutique learning and organizational development consultancy. She was a senior change leadership practitioner with Deloitte Consulting, preceded by a nine-year stretch as Manager and Senior Sales Leader with DA Consulting Group, an end-user documentation, training and change management firm. She is a senior trainer with PowerSpeaking, an exclusive provider of presentation and public speaking skills training.

Suzanne holds a Bachelors in Business Administration from the University of Colorado and a Masters in Expressive Art Therapy from the California Institute of Integral Studies. She's a certified coach with the California Leadership Center and is a certified MBTI practitioner. When she's not working, Suzanne is an avid yogi and volunteers at the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, helping to maintain the extensive trail system near her home where she hikes regularly with her husband and young son.

Mini Bio

- More than 20 years' experience in corporate learning and development
- Expertise in leadership development, change management, team effectiveness, executive presence, presentation skills and career development
- Instructional designer, facilitator and executive coach

Qualifications

- BA in Business Administration, University of Colorado
- Masters in Expressive Art Therapy, California Institute of Integral Studies
- Certified Coach, California Leadership Center
- Certified MBTI Practitioner

LIW | Leadership, not just leaders