Jayne Hood

Project Manager

Jayne.hood@liw3.com

Jayne has extensive experience in the field of education and training as a trainer/lecturer within government incentive training programs before moving into the private training sector as a training and project manager. During her time as Lead Trainer, Jayne worked closely with both trainers and businesses to ensure that operational needs were met whilst ensuring external awarding qualification standards were achieved. These skills enable Jayne to see the bigger picture supporting the needs for the client, associate, and team members.

She is an excellent project manager, totally client focused and understands that building relationships are key in fostering strong professional relationships with both internal and external stakeholders. She is extremely organised, professional, committed and focused on results. She also has a broader view and takes on initiatives that benefit the wider team.

Jayne has worked on a variety of major client leadership development projects with several complex workstreams including Novartis Pharmaceuticals, Bayer AG, Accenture, Akamai Technologies, Hitachi Rail, Walgreens Boots Alliance, and Capita whilst ensuring quality projects are executed on time and within budget.
