

LIW | Leadership, not just leaders

Taylor Hawkins
Associate Consultant
taylor.hawkins@liw3.com

Taylor is a strategic advisor, leadership coach and facilitator who works with individuals and organisations seeking to improve their effectiveness and fulfilment in their work.

Taylor's facilitation experience spans across government, multi-national corporations and the social sector. She has designed and delivered leadership programs for organisations such as; Google, adidas, and PayPal. Her technical facilitation focus areas include; leadership development, sustainability leadership, diversity and inclusion and innovative mindsets. In her wider work, Taylor seeks to empower leaders to increase their impact, while equipping those around them to fulfil their own leadership potential. With experience in entrepreneurship, management, executive leadership and board directorship, Taylor has a deep, yet agile, understanding of leadership and the varying demands of it across sectors and cultural contexts

Mini Bio

- Managing Director, Foundations for Tomorrow
- Advisor, United Nations Foundation
- Board Director, High Resolves Australia

Qualifications

- BA Communications (Public Communications) University of Technology Sydney
- BA Laws, University of Technology Sydney
- Master of Business Administration, University of NSW
- Change Management, University of Sydney
- Directors Course Graduate, Australian Institute of Company Directors
- Climate Emergency Program, Saïd Business School is the business school of the University of Oxford